

SUMMER RADIO LISTENING

Summer 2022 saw people holiday at home or within Australia. With the impact of COVID still having an effect on consumer behaviour, radio listening continued to remain strong. The accessibility of radio on a growing range of devices and technologies enabled listeners to tune into their favourite radio station from any location.

